

Radio Netherlands Worldwide Summer Guide

From 27th March to 30th October 2011

The State We're In

The The State We're In is about how we treat each other around the world. "Life. People. Stories." – that's the show's motto, and it's won international awards for its first-person interviews. Hosted by Jonathan Groubert, the show puts people first, not experts or pundits, in taking a look at the issues facing us all in an increasingly interwoven world. The show is also on the lookout for your stories: just visit the website and see how you can take part at www.tswi.org.

South Asia Wired

Hosted by award-winning RNW producer Dheera Sujan, South Asia Wired features stories from the region, the Diaspora, and events in Europe of interest to people from South Asia. Hear the prominent voices from South Asia, cross-border discussions about anything from new media to cricket, and international stories with a South Asian focus. And do visit our blog at <http://blogs.rnw.nl/southasiawired>

Music

Live at the Concertgebouw concerts are now available around the clock on our dedicated channel RNWclassical.com, featuring live performances and studio recordings by the Netherlands' top orchestras and ensembles. The Eurohit-40 has a new edition online every month at www.eurohit40.nl. And Hear the World, our world music and European Jazz Stage, also continues online.

Summer season 2011

Radio Netherlands Worldwide continues to provide you with the best in feature reporting online, on the radio and in video. Of course, we will still be working hard to improve our broadcasts and website.

Earth Beat: One hour long show about our relationship with the planet and our environment – is being made for our own broadcasts and our radio partners around the world including Australia, Canada, India and the US.

The State We're In is expanding its partnership network too and is looking for more contributions from you. Visit the site and find out how your story can be featured in the show and don't forget the Facebook page.

Our news and current affairs video review of the week's Dutch news – In from Holland – can be found on-line every Friday. There's also a radio snapshot of the day's Dutch current affairs in Network Holland.

African coverage remains strong with Africa in Progress and Bridges with Africa, both on-line and on-air.

Our website, www.rnw.nl, continues to be improved - to showcase our material, bring you world news and Dutch news, and let you have your say. You'll also see RNW stories popping up on other websites around the world as we expand our web partner network.

Africa in Progress

If you're an African who wants to expand your horizon, Africa in Progress is your show. Inspiring guest speakers in round table discussions and in-depth interviews give you food for thought. The weekly show is produced in partnership with local radio stations in Africa.

Bridges with Africa

Bridges with Africa is your link with Africans in Europe and Africans in Africa. This lively weekly radio programme in English brings you interviews, feature stories, African music and thought-provoking reports. We discuss the issues that affect your life. From culture and business to scandals and sports. You'll hear what makes Africans tick. Join us every Friday on Bridges with Africa on short wave radio or on our website www.rnw.nl/africa

Earth Beat

The last few decades have seen big changes in the way people perceive the environment around them. Earth Beat keeps you up to date with those changes; unpicking how our lives impact the planet. But it's no ordinary show about the environment: Earth Beat is all about you and how you experience the world around you. Host Marnie Chesterton's easy going style brings important stories to you in a witty, sometimes irreverent way. It's a breath of fresh air in a dirty old world. www.rnw.nl/english/radioprogramme/earthbeat
